AUTHOR INSTRUCTIONS

Scope: The American Journal of Cosmetic Surgery (AJCS) is the official journal of the American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery as well as of other cosmetic or aesthetic surgery organizations. The printer is Allen Press, Lawrence, Kan. Both original and educational manuscripts about cosmetic surgery designed for cosmetic surgeons in academic and community environments are included in The Journal.

Manuscript Submission: Manuscripts may be submitted to The Journal online via http://www.edmgr.com/ajcs.

Manuscript Preparation: All manuscripts submitted to AJCS must be original (ie, not published elsewhere) and may not be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Manuscripts must be prepared according to the “Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals” (available at http://www.icmje.org).

Peer Review: All manuscripts submitted to AJCS are subject to peer review and editing. Each manuscript is reviewed by at least 2 experts in the field who may also be members of the Editorial Board. The decision of the Editor is final. Authors are notified of the decision by e-mail, and any reviewer comments provided will be included.

Authorship: As noted in the Uniform Requirements, “All persons designated as authors should qualify for authorship. Each author should have participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for the content.

Authorship credit should be based only on substantial contributions to (1) conception and design, or analysis and interpretation of data; and to (2) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content; and on (3) final approval of the version to be published. Conditions (1), (2), and (3) must all be met. . . Any part of an article critical to its main conclusions must be the responsibility of at least 1 author.”

The Uniform Requirements also state that, “Increasingly, multicenter trials are attributed to a corporate author. All members of the group who are named as authors, either in the authorship position below the title or in a footnote, should fully meet the criteria for authorship. Group members who do not meet these criteria should be listed, with their permission, in the Acknowledgments or in an Appendix.”

All authors are requested to indicate in a cover letter accompanying the manuscript that they are willing to take public responsibility for the work, have reviewed the final version of the manuscript, and if requested, will produce the data upon which the manuscript is based.

Copyright and Financial Disclosure: Copyright on all accepted manuscripts will be held by The AJCS. In view of current US copyright law, effective January 1, 1978, it is necessary that a statement be signed by all authors expressly transferring copyright to AJCS in the event that the paper is accepted for publication in The Journal. If the authors are or were US government employees and wrote the work as part of their official duties, they must indicate this fact on the form.

All authors will be asked to complete a confidential disclosure form regarding affiliation with, or financial involvement in, any organization with a direct financial interest in the subject matter or materials discussed in the manuscript.

The copyright transfer and financial disclosure forms will be sent to the corresponding author by the Managing Editor when receipt of the manuscript is acknowledged. It is the responsibility of the corresponding author to obtain the signatures of all coauthors on both forms.

Experimental Subjects: All authors are expected to abide by accepted ethical standards. In investigations that involve human subjects or laboratory animals, authors should provide an explicit statement in the Materials and Methods section that explains experimental protocols were approved by the appropriate institutional review committee and that these meet the guidelines of the authors’ responsible governmental agency. In the case of human subjects, informed consent is essential.

STRUCTURED MANUSCRIPTS AND ABSTRACTS

All original articles submitted to The American Journal of Cosmetic Surgery will have to conform to the structured content below, submitted in a Word doc (docx) file.

Introduction:
Why did you start?
Hypothesis to be proven.
What is being researched?
Question being addressed.

Materials and Methods:
What did you do?
Include number of patients, sex, etc, and how selected.
Surgical technique.

Results:
What answers did you get (give data)?
What complications arose?

Discussion:
What do the results mean?
Impact of previous studies (relationship to present study).
Data of new trial in relation to totality (include prior articles).
Answer to the question in the introduction.

Conclusions:
Conclusions should be placed after the Discussion as a separate section.

The first page of the manuscript should contain the title of the paper and the author’s address, phone number, fax number, e-mail address, and academic position or clinic name. The second page of the manuscript is the Abstract, which follows the format of the body of the manuscript in condensed form.

Abstract: Each manuscript must include a structured abstract of no more than 400 words, divided into the following subheadings: Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results, Conclusions or Discussion.

Acknowledgment(s): Acknowledgments of grant support and of the assistance of others in the study or in the preparation of the manuscript should be made in a separate paragraph following the text and preceding the references (see Authorship).

References: References must be cited in consecutive numerical order at first mention in the text and arranged numerically, not alphabetically, on a page titled “References.” The author is responsible for the accuracy of the references. Material cited in the reference list as “in press” must have been accepted for publication, not merely submitted for review. Ibid references are not permitted. Use Index Medicus abbreviations for journal titles.

Unpublished data and personal communications should not be included in the reference list; rather, this information may be included in the text, with pertinent identification (A. Author, unpublished data) or (B. Author, personal communication). The unpublished data of others and personal communications may be used only when written authorization from the data owner or communicator is submitted with the original manuscript.

On the reference page, list all authors’ last names followed by initials when there are 6 or fewer; if there are 7 or more authors, list the first 3 authors, followed by a comma and “et al.”

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Figures: Figures should be cited in consecutive numerical order at first mention in the text.

Format: The Journal will only accept electronic submission of figures. Electronic originals should be submitted online individually (1 figure per file, separate from the Word doc) at time of original submission. The publisher will accept EPS, TIFF, JPEG, Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and PDF formats. PDFs are preferred.

Color: The Journal will publish 6 color figures free of charge to authors. This free color is offered at the discretion of the Editor. In order for color figures to be free, they must be submitted digitally, in the proper resolution and file format.

Resolution: All figures will be printed in black and white unless the author directs otherwise. Please consult the Table regarding appropriate resolution for electronic figures in black and white, halftone, or color.

Legends: Each figure must have a descriptive legend, or caption, on a separate page following the reference list. All identifying symbols (arrows, letters, etc) and abbreviations should be explained clearly in the legend. Original magnification and staining method should be included. Acknowledgment of previous publication should be noted.

Tables: Tables should be cited in consecutive numerical order at first mention in the text and should enhance, not duplicate, information contained in the text. They should be numbered and titled, and appear on separate pages at the end of the manuscript. All abbreviations should be spelled out, and footnotes to the table should be indicated with symbols (order: *†‡§║¶#). Footnotes to the table should be limited, and extensive description should be included in the text, not in footnotes, as appropriate. Indication of previous publication should be included in a footnote.

Permissions: If a figure or table has previously appeared in copyrighted material, or if extensive material is quoted, the author must obtain written permission from the copyright holder (usually the publisher of the original work) to reprint it. Full credit must be given to the original publication in the legend of the figure or in a footnote to the table. Enclose all letters granting permission to reprint at the time of manuscript submission. The author is responsible for payment of applicable fees for reprinting previously published material. The use of identifiable patient photographs requires a written release from the patient (or guardian). Obtaining this release is the author’s responsibility.

Proofs and Reprints: Page proofs of articles will be sent to the author for approval prior to publication and must be returned within 5 days of receipt; late return may cause a delay in publication of an article. Please check text, tables, legends, and references carefully. Extensive correction to the page proofs for other than typesetting errors will be charged to the author. To order reprints, authors will be contacted via e-mail by EzReprint, a user-friendly, automated online system, prior to production.
